Event Summary	The Beach Clean Drive event was a collaborative effort to promote environmental stewardship and preserve the natural beauty of our coastal areas. Held at Dahanu beach, the initiative brought together volunteers from all walks of life, united by a shared commitment to protecting our oceans and marine life. Armed with gloves, trash bags, and a determination to make a difference, participants set out to scour the beach for litter and debris. From plastic bottles and cigarette butts to discarded fishing gear and microplastics, every piece of waste collected represented a step towards cleaner shores and healthier ecosystems. The event was not only about physical clean-up but also about raising awareness and inspiring positive change. Throughout the day, volunteers engaged in discussions about the impact of marine pollution and the importance of responsible waste management practices. Educational activities and demonstrations showcased the environmental consequences of plastic pollution and highlighted the need for collective action to address this pressing issue. In addition to the clean-up efforts, the event also fostered a sense of community and camaraderie among participants. Volunteers bonded over their shared love for the ocean and their desire to protect it for future generations, forging lasting connections and friendships along the way. By the end of the Beach Clean Drive, the shoreline was transformed, with bags upon bags of litter removed and the beach restored to its natural splendour. But beyond the visible impact, the event left a lasting impression on all involved, serving as a reminder of the power of grassroots activism and the importance of coming together to protect our planet.

Event	On 5th March 2019 Ideal College of Law organized a plantation drive as

Summary	part of its "Clean India, Green India" program. The event was aimed at promoting environmental awareness, encouraging community involvement in sustainability efforts, and contributing to the government's Swachh Bharat (Clean India) mission. The plantation drive brought together students, faculty, and local residents to plant trees and clean up a designated area, underscoring the importance of a green and clean environment. Event Highlights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Opening Ceremony: The event began with a brief opening ceremony where the college's dean and local officials spoke about the significance of tree planting and environmental conservation. They emphasized the role of law students in promoting environmental justice and sustainable practices. - Tree Planting: After the opening remarks, participants gathered in small groups to plant a variety of saplings, including fruit trees, flowering plants, and shade trees. The college provided the necessary tools and supplies, and each group had a dedicated leader to guide the planting process. - Clean-Up Campaign: In addition to planting trees, participants engaged in a clean-up campaign, collecting litter and debris from nearby streets and public areas. This effort aimed to raise awareness about waste management and the impact of pollution on the environment. - Educational Workshops: After the planting and clean-up activities, attendees participated in short educational workshops on environmental sustainability, waste reduction, and the importance of tree planting. These workshops were designed to foster a deeper understanding of environmental issues and inspire ongoing community engagement. - Closing Ceremony: The event concluded with a closing ceremony where participants shared their experiences and reflected on the importance of environmental stewardship. The organizers distributed certificates of participation and small tokens of appreciation, such as reusable water bottles or eco-friendly bags, to encourage sustainable practices. The "Clean India, Green India" plantation drive was a successful initiative that contributed to the local environment and fostered a sense of community responsibility. The event led to the planting of over 100 trees, which will contribute to urban greenery and help combat air pollution. Additionally, the clean-up campaign collected several bags of trash, significantly improving the cleanliness of the surrounding area.

Event Summary	On 20th March 2019, Ideal College of Law conducted a Women's Safety Program aimed at raising awareness about women's safety issues and providing practical strategies for personal safety and empowerment. The event focused on addressing gender-based violence, promoting women's rights, and equipping participants with knowledge and tools to protect themselves and others. Event Highlights: - Opening Session and Keynote Speech: The program began with an opening session that included a keynote speech by a prominent women's rights activist. She discussed the importance of gender equality, shared personal stories of overcoming adversity, and stressed the need for societal change to ensure women's safety.

	-Interactive Workshops: Participants attended a series of interactive workshops designed to provide practical safety tips and self-defense techniques. Topics included situational awareness, verbal de-escalation, and basic self-defense moves. These workshops were led by experts in personal safety and martial arts instructors. - Legal Rights and Resources: A dedicated session focused on the legal rights of women and the resources available for those who face harassment, discrimination, or violence. Law professors and legal experts discussed relevant laws, such as the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, and explained how women can access legal aid and support services. - Panel Discussion on Gender Equality: The program featured a panel discussion with leading voices in gender equality and women's rights. Panelists included academics, social workers, and law enforcement officers. The discussion explored broader issues like workplace harassment, societal expectations, and the role of men in supporting women's safety. - Role of Technology in Women's Safety: A session was dedicated to exploring how technology can be used to enhance women's safety. This included presentations on safety apps, GPS tracking, and other digital tools designed to help women feel safer when out in public or traveling alone. - Closing Remarks and Pledge: The event concluded with closing remarks from the college dean, who encouraged participants to continue advocating for women's safety and equality. Attendees were invited to take a pledge to stand against gender-based violence and support initiatives promoting women's rights. Event Impact: The Women's Safety Program was a comprehensive and empowering event that provided valuable information and practical skills to attendees. The combination of expert-led workshops, legal education, and interactive discussions created a supportive environment for learning and sharing experiences. The program fostered a sense of community and highlighted the importance of collective action in addressing women's safety issues.

They emphasized the role of law students in promoting environmental justice and sustainable practices. - Tree Planting: After the opening remarks, participants gathered in small groups to plant a variety of saplings, including fruit trees, flowering plants, and shade trees. The college provided the necessary tools and supplies, and each group had a dedicated leader to guide the planting process. - Clean-Up Campaign: In addition to planting trees, participants engaged in a clean-up campaign, collecting litter and debris from nearby streets and public areas. This effort aimed to raise awareness about waste management and the impact of pollution on the environment. - Educational Workshops: After the planting and clean-up activities, attendees participated in short educational workshops on environmental sustainability, waste reduction, and the importance of tree planting. These workshops were designed to foster a deeper understanding of environmental issues and inspire ongoing community engagement. - Closing Ceremony: The event concluded with a closing ceremony where participants shared their experiences and reflected on the importance of environmental stewardship. The organizers distributed certificates of participation and small tokens of appreciation, such as reusable water bottles

	or eco-friendly bags, to encourage sustainable practices. The "Clean India, Green India" plantation drive was a successful initiative that contributed to the local environment and fostered a sense of community responsibility. The event led to the planting of over 100 trees, which will contribute to urban greenery and help combat air pollution. Additionally, the clean-up campaign collected several bags of trash, significantly improving the cleanliness of the surrounding area.

Event Summary	On 29th April 2020, Ideal College of Law held its first Virtual Moot Court Competition, offering law students an opportunity to showcase their advocacy skills in a simulated courtroom environment. The competition was conducted online, reflecting the adaptation to virtual formats due to the COVID-19 pandemic. This event aimed to enhance students' legal reasoning, argumentation, and presentation skills while providing a platform for competitive spirit and teamwork. The event began with an opening ceremony featuring a welcome address by the college dean, who highlighted the importance of moot court competitions in legal education. Judges and legal professionals serving as panelists were introduced, and a detailed briefing was provided to all participants regarding the format, rules, and evaluation criteria for the competition. The moot court competition followed a traditional structure, with teams of two or three students representing opposing sides in a legal case. The virtual format used video conferencing technology, allowing participants to argue their cases from different locations. Each team presented their oral arguments, followed by rebuttals and questions from the judges The case scenario for the competition involved a complex legal issue relevant to contemporary law, such as constitutional rights during a public health crisis or data privacy in a digital age. The case required teams to analyze legal precedents, develop persuasive arguments, and anticipate counterarguments. The Virtual Moot Court Competition was a successful adaptation to the challenges posed by the pandemic, demonstrating that virtual platforms can effectively support legal education and student engagement. The event provided a valuable learning experience for law students, allowing them to practice advocacy skills and gain insights into real-world legal processes. The competition fostered a sense of camaraderie and teamwork among participants, while the networking opportunities encouraged ongoing relationships with legal professionals. The event's focus on contemporary
