CONCLUSION WITH MAXIMUM 500 WORDS

Ideal College of Law, believes that effective governance is essential for achieving its vision and mission. The Governing Council of the college is in charge of creating plans for the general expansion and development of the institution. The Indian Bar Council has granted the college approval and it is connected to Mumbai University. The Governing Council is made up of distinguished individuals from various fields of expertise who are members of the Ideal Foundation's executive committee. The college greatly benefits from their guidance and counsel.

The College Development Committee is in charge of building and maintaining the college's facilities and infrastructure. The committee makes sure the college has enough contemporary space to offer top-notch legal education. It consists of the IQAC Coordinator, the Principal, faculty members, representatives from students and alumni, and the executive members of the governing committee.

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) is in charge of guaranteeing the caliber of the college's administrative and academic procedures. The IQAC creates and puts into practice quality assurance plans and procedures, such as getting the SSR ready for NAAC accreditation. In addition, it manages the scheduling of different workshops and seminars and runs CET, NET/SET, JMFC, and CJD exam coaching centers. It is chaired by the college principal, and other members include faculty members, a member from the management group, a practicing attorney from the court industry, a member from the student body, and an alumni.

The goal of Ideal College of Law is to raise the bar for legal education so that it is on par with the nation's top institutions. It aspires to be a unique and eminent legal institution with a strong emphasis on comparison and national issues. Additionally, the college supports its faculty members' continued dedication to providing exceptional instruction. It will assist with projects, programs, and inventions that will help to improve the faculty members' effectiveness as instructors.

The goal of Ideal College of Law is to prepare competent and responsible members of the legal profession who actively support the rule of law by pursuing education, learning, and research at the highest levels of excellence. It also aims to promote quality legal education and training programs. The college wants to give all of its students the assistance and collaboration they need to study in a multicultural and intellectually stimulating setting. Students learn about the law in an extensive global, multicultural, and multidisciplinary framework through this. This aids in the development of their professional expertise and ethical foundation, preparing them to become outstanding attorneys and leaders in the legal industry.

The governing body sincerely hopes that by providing legal education to students, they will be able to help people access justice by strengthening their advocacy, legal interpretation, reasoning, and other skills. To that end, the college has mandated that all of its instructors maintain a high standard of legal knowledge. They schedule activities and keep an academic calendar in order to guarantee efficient learning. The Principal also meets with each faculty member to discuss their overall academic progress.
